A New Little Republican Game The Blair Bill—Mr. Moody—Ex-Secretary of the Treasury.

Our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, January 19.—In yesterday's Post appeared an article from a leading Virginian, and this morning the same journal had a leading editorial on the same line. Both discussed the plan of Republican office-holders to accomplish by indirect means what they supposed was impossible to accomplish in a direct way—that is to keep their places practically by resigning and having Mr. Arthur to appoint successors before Mr. Cleveland comes in. Democratic members of Congress smile at it, and are not making any excited demonstrations in regard to it. They quietly say: "Don't bother yourself about Cleveland, for he is too brave and self-willed to allow himself to be robbed of any prerogative that attaches to his office." A leading official from Indiana informed me to-day that the same course will be adopted in his State by the Republicans, and that they will endeavor to have milk-and-water Democrats appointed in the place of the Republicans who resign before the 4th of March. They will, he further said, be of a class that has had no prominence or recognition in our party. He added, "They will, however, be expected to retain all of the employees, including the kin-people of the retiring officials." Later in the day, a Pennsylvania said the same course was known to exist in his State, while North Carolinians remarked that a similar arrangement was contemplated in their State. During my last interview in regard to this matter a St. Albans Democrat came up and took the floor. He evidently was from Maryland or Virginia, as his face is familiar to me. He resembled Charles Irving when I first saw him. Said he: "Don't you fear for a moment that the Democrats will be left. Don't you know that if you were to give the Democrats of the House ten thousand dollars and the Republicans ten millions, and they were to play 'draw,' the former, in a few sittings, would have all the money." I suggested pleasantly that I did not know that. He replied quickly, "Then your education has been sadly neglected." Said he: "Then, if they were all to go to a banquet, where they remained until they sang 'We Won't Go Home Until Morning,' every Republican would go under the table. Further, if a 'rough-roll-and-tumble fight' came on, you would see Republicans going out like flies." "Why," I remarked, "Mr. Reid, of Maine, is big enough to hold his own with any one on our side." "But," he replied, "he looks too much like the face on 'my grandfather's clock' to do much in that line." He here left to discourse a congressman, and I lost what promised to be an original interview of some length. The moral of this talk was evident.

THE BLAIR BILL, &c.

A leading Massachusetts journalist said to me this afternoon, while he sat in the House outside of the appropriation bills, he believed the Blair educational bill had a fair chance of passing. The opposition to it, said he, is not combined, because they do not oppose it on the same grounds; then the sentiment North and South is in favor of it. Even its opponents agree that if it could be gotten up it would pass. While in favor of the passage of a bankrupt bill, he admitted that the bankrupt bill could not pass this session. I have before stated that it was hard for northern people to know why there is such bitter opposition to a bankrupt bill in the South, and I had to inform him that the way the law of 1867 was administered in your section made the system obnoxious. I asked him if "Way" was greatly injured, tradition says, in the West and South by having gone for the bankrupt act.

PERSONAL NEWS ITEMS.

The paper of Hon. A. H. H. Stuart addressed to H. C. Tinsley, of the Staunton Indicator, in regard to the Blair bill, has attracted much attention here and has helped this measure. General Eppa Hunton was on the floor of the House to-day. General Averill, of Minnesota, and General T. L. Cleggman, are in the city. Colonel W. R. Aylett, of King William, was in the city yesterday. Senator Johnston and Hon. John Goode were at the Capitol to-day.

MR. MOODY IN WASHINGTON.

The Rev. Mr. Moody devoted himself yesterday morning to the colored churches, mainly without regard to the celebration, and is making here as good an impression as he did in Richmond. He speaks in high terms of the kindness he received while in your city, and is especially gratified at the reception he received at the hands of your ministers. He says Dr. Hays will come to him through the South, and is willing to accompany him. By the way, a leading Baptist and a leading Catholic of Richmond have given me an account of his preaching, and their explanations of his wonderful power as an evangelist agreed substantially.

HAZARD AT ANNAPOLIS.

Hon. S. S. Cox expects to-morrow to get up in the House Naval Committee the bill to investigate the H. L. treatment by the United States of the "Sloop Strang," which led to his death. The feeling is fast growing that young cadets sent fresh from home ought not to be cruelly maltreated by athletic seniors. Some coming Dickens will write another "Nicholas Nickleby" with modifications.

A BILL IN AID OF DR. BURTON.

Hon. George D. Wise to-day introduced a bill authorizing the Commissioner of Patents to grant an extension of letters patent, upon application, to Dr. W. Leigh Burton, of Richmond. In 1869 Dr. Burton got out a patent for a most meritorious invention for electro heating, and the object of this bill is to give him an opportunity to reap the fruits of it. It was appropriately referred.

THE ATLANTIC SQUADRON.

It is to go to the New Orleans Exposition, which is a great feature of "the Queen City." To-day the Secretary of the Treasury sent a communication to Congress asking for an appropriation of $4,000 to defray incidental expenses. I take it for granted that neither House will object to so moderate an estimate.

EULOGIES ON SENATOR ANTHONY.

The eulogies on Senator Anthony in the Senate to-day were tributes to a good man that were well deserved. His energy on his colleagues, General Burdick, was one of the best I ever heard. They were David and Jonathan, and were never apart a day while they represented Rhode Island in the Senate unless one or the other was out of Washington. After Burdick died Anthony never looked the same in the Senate. To-night Republicans said that Senator Ingalls, of Kansas, delivered the best eulogy. His style is elegant, but cold.

REPRESENTATIVE McADOO TO-DAY IN formed me that the subject of the lecture which he will deliver in aid of the inauguration funds of the Governor's Guard, First Virginia Regiment, at Richmond on the 25th of February, will be "The Legislator." This will enable him to get off a great deal of humor. It will be fortunate for his hearers that he will not read his lecture, but deliver it only using notes.

DEATH OF REPRESENTATIVE TUCKER'S BROTHER-IN-LAW.

Owing to the death of Mr. Holladay, of Maryland, an ex-Secretary of the Commonwealth for Maryland and a brother-in-law of Representative Tucker, Mr. Tucker was not in the House to-day. Colonel John A. Parker informed me this evening that but for this there was great probability that the Virginia claims for advances to the Federal Government during the war of 1812 would have been taken up and passed. Mr. Tucker is chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, and has the bill in charge.

THE GRANT BILL—ITS SOUTHERN SUPPORT.

The friends of the Grant bill were disappointed this afternoon when the consular appropriation bill was taken up. The clerks who have cast-iron voices did their duty manfully. General Slocum, of New York, remarked at 3 o'clock that he would endeavor to get the Grant bill up if it took all night. As gallant a Confederate brigadier as ever led a cavalry corps remarked to me as I left Richmond last that he thought the bill should by all means pass. It has a great deal of strength among southern congressmen.

BRIEF NEWS ITEMS.

The $40,000 appropriated for a fishway at the great falls of the Potomac has not been yet made available. It is proposed to amend the law making the appropriation so that the royalty for the use of the McDonald patent may be paid out of it.

GOVERNOR COKE TO-DAY, IN THE SENATE.

Chief-Justice Waite waited on the President this morning before going South for his health. Governor Coke to-day: Internal revenue, $519,491; customs, $662,974.

ALTHOUGH SECRETARY TELLER HAS BEEN named for senator from Colorado, it was thought that the friends of the defeated candidate (Senator Hill) will unite with the Democrats and elect a compromise man.

THE CERTIFICATES FOR THE FIRST, SECOND, SIXTH, AND NINTH VIRGINIA CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICTS FOR THE NEXT HOUSE HAVE NOT yet been received by the Clerk of that body.

THE BILL INTRODUCED TO-DAY BY REPRESENTATIVE COX PROVIDES FOR THE RETIREMENT

of captains and lieutenants of the army when they reach fifty years of age. They are to receive 60 per cent. of their regular pay.

XLVIII CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, January 19, 1885.

SENATE.

This being the day fixed by the Senate for delivery of addresses in memoriam of the late Senator Anthony, the chaplain, Rev. Dr. Huntley, made fitting allusions to that senator and emphasized the lessons to be drawn from the example furnished by the life of the distinguished dead.

AMONG THE BILLS INTRODUCED WAS ONE

by Mr. Coke to establish and regulate the quarantine of live-stock trail and to regulate commerce between the States as to live stock.

ON THE CONCLUSION OF THE MORNING BUSINESS MR. ALDRICH OFFERED THE FOLLOWING

resolutions:

Resolved, That the Senate has heard with profound sorrow of the death of Henry B. Anthony, late senator from Rhode Island.

RESOLVED, THAT THE BUSINESS OF THE SENATE BE NOW SUSPENDED TO ENABLE HIS associates to pay the proper tribute of regard to his high character and distinguished public services.

FEELING EULOGIES, SOME OF THEM

eloquent, were made by Messrs. Aldrich, Edmunds, Bayard, Pendleton, Morrill, Garland, Hoar, Butler, Ingalls, Hawley, Manderson, and Sheffield.

AMONG THE WARMEST AND STRONGEST

tributes to the personal character and official and political integrity of their departed colleague were those of the Democratic Senators Bayard, Butler, Pendleton, and Garland. At the conclusion of Mr. Sheffield's remarks Mr. Aldrich's resolution was adopted and the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

The Speaker held before the House a communication from the Secretary of the Treasury transmitting an estimate for an appropriation for $4,000 to meet the incidental expenses of the United States Naval vessels attending the World's Industrial Exposition at New Orleans. Referred.

UNDER THE CALL OF STATES, BILLS, &c.,

were introduced and appropriately referred, as follows:

BY MR. MOODY, OF NEW YORK: Resolution requesting the President to transmit to the House a copy of the recent appeal of Fitz-John Porter, with accompanying papers.

MR. WARD, OF INDIANA: Amending

the act to prevent the introduction of contagious diseases. (This is the bill prepared by the National Conference of health officers.)

BY MR. BLOUNT, OF GEORGIA: To enforce the collection of taxes on distilled spirits in bonded warehouses. It directs the Secretary of the Treasury immediately on the expiration of the three years allowed for the payment of such taxes to proceed to collect the same, notwithstanding any action which may be begun after said time for its enforcement.

MR. HITT, OF ILLINOIS, UNDER INSTRUCTIONS

of the Committee on Foreign Affairs, moved to suspend the rules and pass Senate bill providing for the exercise of the jurisdiction conferred on the United States in places outside of their territory and dominion, and repealing the Revised Statutes from section 4038 to 4130 inclusive. The reading of the bill consumed an hour and a half, and then the motion was seconded by a vote of 97 to 54.

MR. HITT EXPLAINED THAT THE PURPOSE of the measure was to perfect the laws regulating the extra territorial jurisdiction of the United States. It was a digest and arrangement of the present statutes.

MESSRS. COX, OF NEW YORK, McADOO, and Holman opposed the bill, and Mr. Curtis spoke in its favor.

A MOTION TO SUSPEND THE RULES

and pass the bill was lost—yeas, 149; nays, 70.

THE NEXT COMMITTEE ON THE LIST WAS

the Military Affairs Committee, and it being understood it would bring forward the Grant retirement bill, Mr. Lowry, of Indiana, interposed a motion to adjourn, and the yeas and nays were ordered.

AT THIS MOMENT THE ANTHONY RESOLUTIONS

were received from Rhode Island, and Mr. Silver, of Centralia, Mo., says: "I took Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and it has acted like a charm." "So," said Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and it is greatly improved."

TO MR. BAYNE, OF PENNSYLVANIA, objected, and the clerk called the roll.

THE MOTION TO ADJOURN WAS LOST—YEAS,

60; nays, 193.

MR. CHACE THEN ASKED THAT THE ANTHONY

resolutions be considered, but Mr. Slocum, of New York, objected.

THE SPEAKER THEN CALLED THE COMMITTEE

on Military Affairs, and Mr. Slocum rose, but before he could make any motion, Mr. Lowry moved that the House take a recess until to-morrow at 11:30.

MR. MILLS, OF TEXAS, AND MR. WASHBURN, of Minnesota, moved to adjourn. Lost—Yeas, 118; nays, 135.

AFTER ANOTHER DISPUTED MOTION, THE

House at 5 o'clock adjourned.

THE OLD NORTH STATE.

Legislative—Visit of Carl Schurz to Raleigh.

(Special telegram to the Dispatch.)

RALEIGH, January 19.—To-day in the Senate a bill came up providing for working the public roads by taxation. It was killed, as were several bills making the same provision for counties. Senator Vance, who will be voted for senator to-morrow, arrives here to-morrow evening. He will probably be tendered a reception by the Legislature.

Hon. Carl Schurz arrived here to-day. Petersburg this morning. He was met by the State editor of the News and Observer, and introduced to the State and municipal officials, and was then invited to a seat on the floor of the Senate. In the evening he was tendered a reception by the Watauga Club, and afterwards lectured at Tucker Hall, his subject being "Benjamin Franklin, an American as well as European." To-morrow he goes to Wilmington, and arrives at Charleston Wednesday afternoon.

FATAL FIRE.

School-House Burned—An Old Woman Perishes in the Flames.

(Special telegram to the Dispatch.)

REIDSVILLE, N. C., Jan. 19, 1885.

Old Monticello Academy, used as a free school at Brown Summit, was burned last night. Miss Jessie Prichett, a teacher, perished in the flames. The neighbors buried her bones to-day. Hawkins Eudd lost seven hundred dollars worth of leaf tobacco stored for barn room in the house. The origin of the fire is not known.

BRACKENBERRY'S BIRTHDAY.

(By telegram to the Dispatch.)

FORT WAYNE, IND., January 19.—The railroad brakemen's strike, which was inaugurated here Tuesday night, terminated last evening. The strikers held a meeting yesterday and delegated a committee of four of their number to wait on Mayor Zollinger at his residence, which was done at 10 o'clock. The committee waited on Superintendent Law, of the railroad company, and at this meeting it was agreed that the railroad company be permitted to run "double-header" freight trains if desired, while those of the striking brakemen who choose to work will be reinstated by the company, and not discharged. They said but few, if any, of the strikers will go back to work, preferring to seek employment elsewhere. The railroad officials were very busy last night getting out trains of freight loaded here for six days past.

ON THE LOOKOUT FOR FILIBUSTERS.

(By telegram to the Dispatch.)

WASHINGTON, January 19.—The Treasury Department has issued special instructions to collectors of customs and its other agents in the vicinity of the Gulf coast to be on the alert to prevent the lodges of customs and engineers, who had urged the brakemen to strike, and who gave them promise of moral and financial support, failed to do as they had agreed." He said: "We have destroyed no property. We gave the company permission to use any or all of the cars containing perishable freight, and even offered to do it for them, but they did not accept the offer. He said but few, if any, of the strikers will go back to work, preferring to seek employment elsewhere. The railroad officials were very busy last night getting out trains of freight loaded here for six days past.

EFFECTS OF FROST AND COLD.

(By telegram to the Dispatch.)

CLEVELAND, January 19.—News from the small rivers of Ohio indicate that only the sudden and severe frost prevented another flood, as the rivers were all full and rising. The gale Saturday was a terrible one. The temperature fell 25 degrees in two hours, and the cold was accompanied by a fierce sleet and wind-storm. The damage caused by both these things is great.

The fruit and ornamental-trees suffered severely on every side, and all the railway lines are blocked. Some are being cleared, and others are abandoned until the snap is over. From detailed reports received so far, it looks as if the storm has cost northern Ohio several millions of dollars.

THE COLDEST DAY OF THE YEAR.

(By telegram to the Dispatch.)

CHICAGO, January 19.—This has been the coldest day of the year here. The thermometer ranged anywhere from 19 to 38 below zero. The wind was strong, blowing from the north during the forenoon. The same condition of affairs prevails throughout the State, but in the Northwest the weather is milder as compared with that of twenty-four hours ago. Winnipeg is quoted 14 below, Jamestown 16, Fargo 17, and St. Paul 19 below. The weather shows some signs of moderating there this afternoon, the thermometer having marked 13 below. Trains are beginning to run more closely to schedule time.

BIG FIRE IN BOSTON.

(By telegram to the Dispatch.)

BOSTON, January 19.—The Bay State Sugar Refinery in Eastern Boston was completely gutted by last night's fire, and it is estimated that the loss to sugar manufacturers will be in the immediate neighborhood of $300,000, while the loss to owners of adjoining property, including the Standard Dry-Works and tenement houses Nos. 61, 63, and 65 Eastern avenue, will aggregate $35,000.

ILLNESS OF THE POPE.

(By cable to the Dispatch.)

LONDON, January 19.—A dispatch from Rome received this afternoon states that the Pope is confined to his bed with fever and rheumatism.

THE SUNNY SIDE OF IT.

Let us be sunny if we can. But if we have dyspepsia and liver complaint and rheumatism and several other ailments, how can we? First get rid of the ailments. Get a bottle of Brown's Iron Bitters and get them to fight. Mr. Silver, of Centralia, Mo., says: "I took Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and it has acted like a charm." "So," said Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia, and it is greatly improved."

THE ORDINANCE OF BAPTISM WAS ADMINistered at the Baptist church yesterday morning and at the Methodist church last night.

COLONEL CHARLES C. VENABLE HAS BEEN organized at the Young Men's Christian Association rooms a Bible-class, which meets on Friday nights. He will have a large class.

THE HORSES ATTACHED TO THE CARRIAGE

of Mr. H. L. Lyman ran away yesterday, starting from the Episcopal church and running clear home, breaking the carriage to pieces and injuring one of the horses.

THE THINKING PEOPLE OF THIS SECTION

regard the passage of the Blair educational bill as of paramount importance to the Democratic party in Virginia.

THE NORFOLK POLICE.

A Committee of Investigation that is Going to the Bottom of Things.

(Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.)

NORFOLK, January 19, 1885.

The committee appointed by the Council to investigate the charges against the police force and the Board of Police Commissioners and Mayor Lamb met at police headquarters to-day.

In the early part of last spring, soon after the difficulty between Mr. Zachary, of the Board, and the Mayor, the police made a raid on a colored gambling-house and captured a number of men and boys, charging them with certain articles of gambling material. Complaint was made to the Mayor by the keeper of the house, and he suspended the officers concerned in the raid, charging them with unlawfully entering the house and robbing it of money, &c.

A meeting of the Board was then called, and the Mayor was asked by the other two members to swear to charges preferred, &c.; but he declined, stating that he was not ready for trial. He was asked to appoint some day, when the charges would be made in proper form, but he said his witnesses were not present, and he could not fix a time. He then retired, and the other members of the Board reinstated the officers who had been suspended.

The Mayor in his late message reviews the history of the case, renews his charges that the police, accompanied by a notorious saloon-keeper, had entered the house unlawfully and taken away hundreds of dollars, besides cigars, &c.; that at the meeting of the Board above-mentioned an attempt was made to browbeat him in his court-room, &c., &c. He then draws a comparison between the old and the new police force, charging that notoriously bad characters had been put on the force, and washing his hands of all "blame" in the management of these men since they were appointed.

The committee of investigation organized, and first heard from the Chief of Police a statement, in which he testified to the efficiency of the present police force, and mentioned several instances in which incompetent men were appointed by Mayor Lamb. He thought the present force was the best the city ever had.

Rev. Richard Spiller (colored) testified to the improvement in the conduct of people on Queen street since the raid was made, and thought much good had been accomplished by this raid.

The investigation was then adjourned to Wednesday.

OTHER ITEMS.

The Brambleton Baptist chapel was dedicated yesterday with a sermon by Rev. A. E. Dickinson. It is a very neat structure, costing $5,150. This is the second chapel dedicated in Brambleton during the year.

The congregation of the Cumberland Street Baptist church propose to remodel their church-building, and yesterday raised $1,000 for that purpose. The improvements will cost $2,000.

The Old Dominion steamer Accomack, recently raised, is being rapidly repaired, and will go on duty in a few days.

A little waif only a few days old was picked up in Brambleton Sunday morning. It was taken to the county poorhouse and was christened "Sunday Mayfield."

PAGE COUNTY.

Shelburne Burned—Jail Delivery—Religions.

(Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.)

LURAY, VA., Jan. 19, 1885.

A two-story frame dwelling-house situated on Water street, in this place, and occupied by Mr. William H. Somers, was totally destroyed by fire on Sunday morning, January 18th. The fire was discovered by the local firemen, who arrived in the city under control, and the only personal effects saved were from the first floor. There was no insurance.

A new Baptist church will be organized on Sunday next at Rileysville, in this county, by Rev. L. R. Milbourne, pastor of the Baptist church in this place.

Charles Armstrong, under sentence of confinement for fifteen days for petit larceny, escaped from the county jail here on Saturday morning last by using a little strategy and turning the key in the jailer and leaving him in his own place. He has not yet been recaptured.

The Democrats of this county, with scarcely an exception, are very much in the favor of the passage of the Blair educational bill by Congress. The chairman of the Democratic County Committee proposes to call a mass-meeting for the next term of our County Court to give expression to the sense of the Democrats on this subject.

DEATH OF PALMER ST. CLAIR.

A telegram from Lynchburg announces the death of Palmer St. Clair, which took place at his home at Bon-sack's depot, Roanoke county, on Sunday. Palmer St. Clair was one of the best-known and most popular men in Southwest Virginia. In many respects he was a most remarkable man. His fund of humor was only exceeded by his generosity and hospitality. He was a devoted fox-chaser, and by common consent was accorded the position of "master of the hounds" for all his Democratic side. He kept open house, and no one that was needy went away from it empty-handed. He was an earnest, working Democrat, a splendid organizer, and though not gifted with the power of oratory, his quaint, short, pithy sayings from the stump did his party many a good turn. His pride was in his home, in his precinct, over which he had no man's Democratic ticket. Though he lived to give, he was a successful farmer. He was a good citizen, a good neighbor—a man that loved his fellow-man—aid will be sincerely mourned.

WAS IT A CASE OF MURDER?

(Special telegram to the Dispatch.)

NORFOLK, January 19, 1885.

The body of an unknown white man was found on the farm of James Mallorey, near Lambert's Point, this morning, with pistol-shot holes in his temples and left breast near the heart. It is supposed to have been a case of murder. Among the articles in his pocket was a copy of the Richmond Dispatch of January 18th.

AN EX-BANK-TELLER ARRESTED.

(By telegram to the Dispatch.)

WINDSOR, ONT., January 19.—Robert Alderidge, ex-teller of the Windsor branch of the Bank of Commerce, has been arrested for embezzlement.

ANOTHER FOUNDLING BORN.

(By telegram to the Dispatch.)

NEW BEDFORD, MASS., January 19.

William H. Chadwick, late cashier of the Pacific National Bank, at Nantucket, overdraw his account $8,000, and his resignation was demanded last week.

Chadwick has been cashier six years, and his large operations in real estate have been in much attendance. He made good the $8,000 overdraft by the aid of friends, who probably did not know there was an irregularity in his accounts. His resignation became known to the public Wednesday morning. He appears to have been a borrower of money to a considerable amount—some estimated at $40,000. He left deeds of real estate with a widow's security, and to more practical business men he gave a certificate of stock of the Pacific National Bank. The president having signed them in blanks, he had only to fill them out and sign them himself. Quite a number of certificates of shares of stock issued by himself and endorsed to others were found and loaned money, but whom he had persuaded not to have transferred upon the books of the bank. Chadwick has manifested a willingness to turn over his whole property to his creditors. His entire real estate is mortgaged, and several attachments have been recorded. No criminal proceedings have yet been commenced. No greater commotion has been created in Nantucket since the failure of the Manufacturers and Mechanics Bank in 1846.

A FORGER ON HIS TRAVELS.

(By telegram to the Dispatch.)

NEW YORK, January 19.—It is reported that money has been obtained upon forged checks or drafts drawn upon the Second National Bank of Cleveland, O., and signed "Standard Oil Company, by L. McGregory," or other names. Several of these checks, it is said, have been cashed by banks and individuals in Chicago, St. Louis, St. Paul, and other cities. The drafts are said to have been lithographed at a Kansas City establishment, and are printed in black ink upon dark-buff paper. The forger is said to travel under the names of G. E. Thomas, T. C. Adams, and Charles W. Moore, having with him Standard Oil Company letter-heads, and representing himself as an agent of the Standard Oil Company.

CONVICTED OF PRESENTING FRAUDULENT

(By telegram to the Dispatch.)

WASHINGTON, January 19.—The jury in the case of Bellman, of Chicago, and Edward Kirkwood and Daniel Carigan, of this city, indicted for presenting fraudulent claims through the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery of the Navy Department, this evening brought in a verdict of guilty as charged. The jury had been locked up since Saturday afternoon.

In the case of F. B. Sanborn, Kirkwood, and Carigan, indicted for a similar offense, which was given to another jury this afternoon, a verdict of guilty was returned within fifteen minutes after the delivery of the judge's charge. Motions for new trials were filed at once.
